

CORRUPTION IN SYRIA: LESSONS LEARNED

A STATEMENT BY
AHMAD AL ASRAWI

The fight against corruption is an essential part of changing the tyrannical system and is not a substitute or prelude to changing the system. Therefore, an independent anti-corruption commission based on transparency, administrative structure, and collective participation must be established as a matter of principle. The commission should be given sufficient powers to carry out the tasks assigned to it.